

To Ease Overcrowding

Public Demand Was Basis For Proposed Bond Issue

The decision to hold the $1,665,000 school bond issue this year was made by the Sedalia Board of Education—but not until after careful consideration and considerable prompting from the parents of students attending overcrowded public schools.

The move got under way, in earnest, early this year, one night when a few parents attended a regular school board meeting at Smith-Cotton High School. This handful of parents, not familiar with the procedure followed in school expansion and improvement matters, asked the board to relieve the overcrowded situation as soon as possible.

Board members informed these people that everything possible was being done at the time, but the steady growth of the community and the lack of a planned expansion program made it impossible to relieve the situation completely with the school buildings on hand.

Members of the board informed this small group that it is not the responsibility of the board to make more room—it is their responsibility to do the best with the room made available by the public. This has been done by combining rooms, partitioning rooms wherever possible, moving offices to make classrooms, and other "make-do" arrangements.

"In order to pass a bond issue, which will be necessary to obtain the needed facilities," the board explained, "it is necessary to have public support and public demand."

This first group of parents went to work, and at the next regular board meeting there were so many people in attendance the meeting was held in the library to provide seating room. This was a proper setting for the meeting, because the library itself had been partitioned to make room for an additional study hall, where the meeting was held.

More than 100 people, most of them from one school area, asked dozens of questions and offered dozens of suggestions for improving the school system. The next meeting was almost as big, but the board was beginning to get a true picture of what the public wanted and would vote for.

Means of obtaining a favorable vote were discussed at later board meetings, and the committee system was favored. William A. Schien was named as committee chairman of the Citizens Committee for Better Schools, and about 100 people were named to the committee.

The board, taking into consideration the many questions asked, the projected population growth and movement and many other things that must be considered in formulating a plan for extended progress, decided the following items are necessary to bring the public school system up to desirable standards:

A new elementary school, to be built on property already owned by the school system in the vicinity of Seventh and Warren. This will cost $842,897.10.

A combined auditorium-gymnasium-cafeteria at Jefferson School, for $159,390.40.

Additional classrooms at Smith-Cotton, $113,840.

A cafeteria at Whittier School, for $40,932.

Physical education, music and home economics building at Smith-Cotton, $471,315.50.

A cafeteria at Mark Twain School, $36,024.50.

The above figures are architect's estimates, and are the amounts which will be considered in the May 3 special election.

Missing Youth Released

French Police Intensify Hunt For Abductors

PARIS (AP)—French police today intensified a nationwide manhunt for the kidnappers of Eric Peugeot and labeled a hoax one published report that the abductors had been captured.

Four-year-old Eric was home safe and sound, though "still upset." His abductors freed him on a Paris sidewalk early today—presumably after payment of ransom.

The French News Agency flashed a report that the kidnappers had been captured and even gave the names of two men and a woman. Later, however, the agency said it had been "taken in by false information."

Eric was questioned by inspectors this afternoon after a good sleep but indications were that the boy was unable to furnish much information.

The 4-year-old heir to a French automobile empire was found unharmed, crying on a sidewalk within half a mile of his home shortly before 1 a.m. today. He said he had been left there by two men, apparently the same pair who whisked him away from the playground at an exclusive St. Cloud Country Club Tuesday afternoon.

The newspaper France-Soir reported that Eric's father, Roland Peugeot, said he had paid a ransom to the kidnappers Thursday afternoon. The amount was not revealed, but the abductors had demanded $100,000.

Eric and his parents were in their sixth-floor apartment this morning, the drapes drawn and four police on guard outside.

"To get Eric released I scrupulously followed the conditions of the kidnappers," Peugeot was reported to have said. "I had to have confidence in them. They asked me to deliver the ransom to a specific place. I did it. Then there was nothing to do but wait. The last hours by the telephone were the most cruel."

Eric was examined by a doctor and pronounced in good health. Questioned closely, he said: "I didn't know the two men who took me away in a car. They didn't take me far. It was in a ground floor apartment. They had a television set. . . . They didn't hurt me."

Then, snuggling up to his father, he added, "I am very happy now."

Dalton Calls Score Contest A Lottery

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton held today a basketball score contest run in the Daily Dunkin' Democrat of Kennett, Mo., was a lottery and therefore illegal under Missouri's anti-gambling laws.

He supplied the opinion for Charles M. Cable, prosecuting attorney for Dunkin' County.

In one sense the opinion was a victory for Rep. Robert E. Young (R) of Jasper County, an almost constant critic of the Democratic attorney general.

Young brought the subject up months ago and asked the attorney general for an opinion, pointing out that Kennett is Dalton's hometown.

Dalton replied the attorney general frequently has supplied legislators with opinions when the legal advice was connected with law-making work but he doesn't have to. Young said Dalton "has suddenly become opinion shy."

Cable held the contests were not illegal and a story was carried in the paper to that effect. Cable requested the attorney general's opinion Feb. 20.

Dalton ruled, as other attorney generals have in the past, that a lottery must have three elements—prize, consideration and chance. The basketball scores contest had weekly cash prizes, he said. The cost or effort in getting the paper constituted consideration and although there might be some skill present in guessing the possible outcome of basketball games, Dalton held, it was mostly chance.

British Woman Doctor On Transcontinental Hike Does 80 Miles

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — It was 80 miles down, 2,952 to go for hardy Dr. Barbara Moore, 56, as she heads today for California's capital.

The British vegetarian spent the night at Dixon, 21 miles to the west and 80 miles from San Francisco, where she started her transcontinental hike Wednesday. She covered 40 miles on each of the first two days.

But she was still confident she would overtake two British servicemen who started a day earlier and are 68 miles ahead of her.

The servicemen, Flight Sgt. Patrick Moloney of the Royal Air Force and S. Sgt. Mervyn Evans of the British army, rested at Colfax in the Sierra foothills Thursday night.

Dr. Moore expects to cross the country—3,032 miles—in 45 days. The Sergeants have allotted 70 days. The record is 79 days, 10 hours, 10 minutes.

Decision On Deramus Is Set Aside

Judge Gives Equal Treatment to Six MKT Switchmen

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dist. Judge W. L. (Jack) Thornton today set aside contempt of court judgments against Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad president W. N. Deramus III and six M-K-T switchmen.

He said, in effect, that since the Texas Supreme Court will not permit him to place the railroad president in jail for court contempt, he will not punish the switchmen either.

Earlier, Thornton found the switchmen and Deramus in contempt of court after Katy trains violated an injunction ordering the railroad not to block the entrance to the Neuhoff Bros. packing plant here.

The Supreme Court said last month it considered the $4,000 fine and 240-day jail term against Deramus to be "wholly void." However, the Supreme Court did not specifically free the railroad president from the contempt sentence.

"I do not agree that the contempt judgment is void or even erroneous, but it is my duty to obey the order of the Supreme Court," Thornton said today.

The six trainmen who had been ordered to appear in court today for sentencing are E. E. Cook, Richard Peters, Guy Bailey, F. W. Morgan, Booth Hufaker and Fred J. Davenport.

The switchmen were paid by the railroad each time they appeared in court and did not lose any pay. They had been under contempt citations since last April in a case that dates back to 1956.

Nineteen other Katy trainmen were involved originally but they all were conductors and were absolved of any blame when it was shown to the court that switchmen take over operation of trains when the trains reach switching yards.

Moose Carlift Provides Rides For Churchgoers

Moose Lodges throughout the Central States sponsor a project known as Operation Carlift every Easter Sunday. It means providing transportation for anyone who needs a way to Easter services.

This year Sedalia Moose Lodge, No. 1496, is again offering this service freely to anyone who needs a lift. The members want to do their part in helping make Sunday a happy and holy Easter day for everyone.

Don't miss Easter Sunday church because you have no ride. Call the Moose Lodge Carlift. Any of these telephone numbers can be used to reserve church transportation: TA 6-9629; TA 6-2368; TA 6-9359 or TA 7-0705.

If you or someone you know needs a way to church, call one of the numbers above and give the person answering the following information: The name and address of the people who need a lift; how many people will be there, the location and the time of the Easter services they want to attend; the approximate time they will be ready to return home; information on any special physical condition that will have to be especially provided for.

The Sedalia Moose Lodge feels that through wider publicity that more people than ever who need a lift will be able to avail themselves of this offer. If you need a way, get your reservation in early so the Moose Lodge can have plenty of cars available.

Holy Day Services Across US Sunday

Traditional Parades Will Greet Easter

Hymns and Prayers Will Celebrate The Resurrection

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The resurrection of Christ the most glorious of all Christian holidays, will be celebrated with prayer and song and story from mountain top and valley and from coast to coast.

The most spectacular services are planned for out-of-door arenas. But millions of Americans will celebrate the Holy Day to the ring of Psalms and the tang of incense in the privacy of their churches.

Before and after religious services, traditional Easter parades will give worshippers a chance to display spring finery. The greatest of these is New York's annual Fifth Avenue parade, when tens of thousands turn the normally busy artery into a mall. Police headquarters has ordered advertising and other commercial features barred from the parade.

Manhattan's other major Easter event will be the 41st annual Easter dawn service which is expected to draw a capacity 7,000 to Sixth Avenue's Radio City Music Hall. The congregation will be asked to pray that Christ's influence be felt at the impending summit conference of the Big Four nations.

On the West Coast, Yosemite National Park in California boasts the latest sunrise Eastern service in all the 50 states. The sun does not pierce the shadow of half dome mountain to bring dawn to Mirror Lake until 9:15 a.m. A college of the Pacific choir will greet this belated sunrise from a split of land on the shore of the lake.

Worshippers in San Francisco will climb the city's highest hill for services at the foot of a giant cross atop Mt. Davidson.

Elsewhere in California, Viennese Della Chiesa will be guest soloist at the 40th annual sunrise service expected to draw 20,000 to the Hollywood Bowl. Other major observances will be held at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Mt. Helix near San Diego, and on a bluff above Avalon Bay on Santa Catalina Island.

At Mt. Rubidoux in Riverside, 60 miles southeast of Los Angeles, torchlight held by Boy Scouts and high school ROTC cadets will light the way for pilgrims who annually climb 1,337 feet up the mountain for sunrise services. Sponsors of the event, first held in 1909, claim it is the nation's oldest of its kind.

The Air Academy choir will sing in the Garden of the Gods near Colorado Springs. This sunrise (Please turn to page 2, column 3)

SAC EASTER FASHION—Flying clothes and pistols will be correct attire for Strategic Air Command alert crews attending Easter services at Offutt Air Force Base chapel at Omaha Sunday. These crews, who must be ready to proceed to their planes and be airborne within 15 minutes, can't take the chance of changing clothes for the services. Shown with their families at the chapel is a typical SAC combat alert crew. From left, are: Capt. and Mrs. James H. Cash and son, Jimmy, Waco, Tex.; Capt. and Mrs. Robert McBride and son, Bobby, Houston, Tex.; and Capt. Robert J. Whitehead, Blue Island, Ill.

Split-Second Timing Used

Way of the Cross Enacted In Many Dead Languages

JERUSALEM, Jordan Section (AP)—The story of the Crucifixion was recited beside an empty tomb in Jerusalem this Good Friday in the babel of ancient and long-dead languages widely spoken at the time of Christ.

Each of the old liturgical languages represents a Christian community with jealously guarded traditional rights in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

Normally, Oriental and Western churches have Easter at different times because of calendar differences but this year they celebrate Easter together.

This means there must be careful planning and split-second timing of services in the church to avoid friction.

Showers and Storms Expected to Develop

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Scattered showers and thunderstorms were to develop again in Missouri today as a cool front moved in from the west.

The day dawned from clear to partly cloudy and foggy in spots. Early morning precipitation occurred in the Bootheel. Mid-morning temperatures ranged from 57 at Kirksville to 68 at Malden.

Army, Defense Dept. Argue

Nike-Zeus Dispute Breaks Out Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army still says its Nike-Zeus antimissile missile could protect the United States against intercontinental attack. But the Defense Department is still doubtful.

The long dispute over the Nike-Zeus broke out again in closed door testimony before a House Appropriations subcommittee. The transcript of last month's hearings, heavily censored in spots, was made public today.

The Nike-Zeus system, still being developed, would combine radar to spot an enemy intercontinental missile and a killer weapon to erase it with a nuclear blast high in the air.

Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, the Army's chief of research, told the subcommittee he is confident the Zeus "can and will be successfully developed to meet and master the ballistic missile threat of the Soviet Union."

But Herbert F. York, research director for the Defense Department, which has the last word, told the same group "I think fall-out shelters are a more effective way of saving lives in a ballistic missile attack than Zeus."

"completely wrong" to consider shelters the only answer.

"You need a passive defense in this country and you need an active defense," Trudeau said. "Nike-Zeus is the only thing that has got a chance of doing it before 1970."

In talking about the limitations of the Zeus, especially the baffling problem of distinguishing between an oncoming hostile weapon and decoys that might be launched with it, York gave some hints of more advanced defenses still in the dream or early research stages.

Scientists are studying the strange region where the upper atmosphere meets space — and where intercontinental missiles fly — for hints on better tracing methods, he said. They are looking for ways to track missiles through "electromagnetic emissions, ultraviolet, visible light, infrared and microwave radiations, and from the wave and trails resulting from the missile."

Advanced radar ideas, such as a detector steered by electronic means, are being investigated, he said. Much more study is required before a defense beyond Nike-Zeus can be planned, he went on, "perhaps a system might be achievable in the late 1960s."

If an Orthodox priest lights a lamp belonging to Armenians a near riot will follow.

The feeling is so strong on these points that the various rights have been written into international treaties. One such dispute in Bethlehem was a contributing cause to the outbreak of the Crimean War.

The first language used in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre Good Friday morning was the Latin tongue spoken by a Roman Centurion who stood beside the cross and declared, "Surely this was the Son of God." Roman Catholics gathered in the church to hold an early service.

By 9:30 a. m. the Latins had to make way for the Greek Orthodox, whose liturgy embodies Greek spoken by the Apostle Paul and most educated persons in New Testament times.

In the afternoon the language of Pharaohs and the language spoken by Christ mingled when the Syrians and Egyptians both held a burial service at the Holy Sepulchre almost simultaneously. In their liturgy, the Syrian Orthodox Christians use the Aramaic language spoken by Christ and most of his disciples.

It was the tongue in which Jesus cried from the Cross "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken me."

While these ancient tongues were used in liturgies, modern languages like German, English, Spanish and Italian were used in sermons and prayer as pilgrims carried heavy crosses along the Way of the Cross. They carried crosses from the place of Christ's trial before Pilate to the Holy Sepulchre, stopping at each of the 14 Stations of the Cross to hear sermons in their own language.

Murder Case Becomes Complicated Against Morgan County Man

FRANKLIN, La. (AP) — The murder case against Robert H. Allen of Morgan County Mo., became more complicated today after a St. Louis tow boat firm came up with an alibi.

Allen is charged with the double murder of Benjamin Young, 43-year-old Metairie businessman, and Mrs. Hermine Fiedler, 37-year-old Jefferson Parish barmaid. Both were shot to death.

Records of the Huffman Towing Co. say Allen was skipper aboard a motor vessel at Memphis the night one of the murders took place.

Allen was arrested Sunday when he tried to reclaim a gun he said he hid at a Morgan City hotel. Police have not made a ballistic test on the gun.

Allen has been missing from his Missouri home since March 10. His wife got a letter saying he was leaving home and she could have all he owned. His car was found March 20 at Port Arthur, Tex.

Saline Countains Bid Goodbye to Train

Marshall's Last Passenger Train Is Robbed By Sheriff

The Saline County Sheriff, accompanied by a Marshall postman, Thursday staged a daring holdup of the last scheduled passenger train to go through Marshall and Saline County. They made off with several hundred dollars of Confederate money.

Shooting blanks and shouting like the robbers of old, Sheriff Paul Piper and Johnny Woods rode their horses up to the Marshall depot just as the last Gulf, Mobile and Ohio train pulled in.

The "victims" were Marshall and Slater residents who boarded the train at Roodhouse, Ill., the train's starting point, and rode it to Marshall. Some passengers wore costumes of the old days.

Piper and Woods were later captured by the Marshall Chief of Police, Charles Ray Coslet, and his men. The loot was passed out to the crowd of onlookers for souvenirs.

The Marshall Boots and Saddle Club, led by its president, Ben Terrell, organized a posse to help the police track down the bandits.

Another holdup is planned for Jackson County, where the band of Jesse James supposedly held up a train in 1878. The Sheriff's department of that county will repeat the performance put on by Piper.

After the "robbery" took place, a short ceremony was held to bid a formal goodbye to Marshall's last passenger train, at least for the present time.

Marshall Mayor Gerald Leach and Richard Quinn, president of the Marshall Chamber of Commerce, which provided the transportation fees for the "robbery victims", participated in the ceremonies, as did several officials of the GM&O railroad.

Wagoner said owners of cabins or country homes in the two county area should approach their cabins cautiously if they visit them over the weekend because the fugitives are armed and dangerous. Anyone discovering evidence of a break-in should notify the patrol immediately, he said.

The Smiths slugged Muskogee County, Okla., Deputy Sheriff Leonard Marlow, 53, and escaped in his car Wednesday.

He was taking them to Oklahoma, where they face armed robbery charges, from Vincennes, Ind., where they were arrested.

The Smiths ditched the Deputy's car and disappeared in a wooded area near St. Clair. They were armed with a revolver and a rifle. Both are ex-convicts.

Stage, Projectionist Union Meets; Discuss Equipment Problems

The Missouri State Organization of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Motion Picture Projector Operators met at the Bothwell Hotel Thursday with 26 members of 17 locals present.

Two international representatives of IATSE were present. They were Leroy Upton, St. Louis, and Glenn Kalkoll, Milwaukee, Wis., representing the Ninth District of IATSE. The meeting was called by the president of the association, Lou Lavato.

The group enjoyed a banquet, then discussed various problems concerning the operation and maintenance of motion picture equipment. Some new model projectors were shown and discussed.

James Boys Never Had This Trouble

Mock Robbery Was Carried on Amidst Crowd, Confusion

SELSA, Mo. (AP)—Frank and Jesse James must have turned over in their graves.

A bunch of amateur "outlaws" celebrating the last run of Gulf, Mobile and Ohio's train No. 9 tried to hold it up James style at this Kansas City way station Thursday night.

By placing a tie across the tracks too soon they almost derailed a freight train which preceded the passenger; there were so many passengers aboard the three-car No. 9 that "Jesse" and "Frank" couldn't get on to "rob" them, and had to order their victims outside; in fact the train was so crowded, the conductor never did get all of the tickets punched; there was trouble in the dark telling the costumed passengers from the spectators, so the "outlaws" wound up "robbing" everyone in sight.

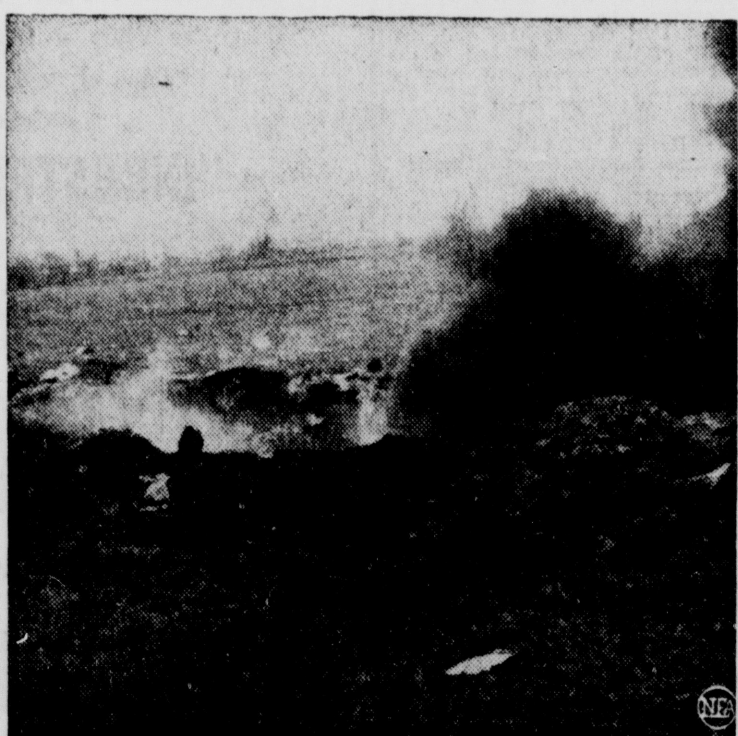

Then "Frank", portrayed by Gordon Vandeveter, hollered, "Let's split up and meet back at the rendezvous," and the 15 members of the Jackson County sheriff's posse galloped off into the night through a tangle of automobiles and 8,000 onlookers.

The 97-car freight, running 30 minutes ahead of No. 9 which was enroute from Bloomington, Ill., to Kansas City, struck the tie and ground it under its wheels. Crewmen said the tie would have derailed the lighter passenger train had it arrived first.

After the freight pulled out, No. 9's headlight appeared and it chugged to a stop. Firing their blanks, the "James boys" rode in.

At an earlier pretended holdup, in Marshall, Mo., the crowd was so thick outside the train that the James gang portrayes couldn't get their horses alongside. The mayor of Marshall was supposed to make a speech, but the crowd wouldn't let him.

Beverly's Mom Is Led Away To Face Charges

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"I haven't done nothing—I'll sue for false arrest," declared the angry mother of 17-year-old Beverly Aadland as she was led off to jail on charges of contributing to her daughter's delinquency.

Police found Florence Aadland expecting them when they arrived Thursday at the apartment she shared with Beverly, last mistress of the late Errol Flynn.

It was the apartment in which William Stancu, handsome aspiring actor, was fatally shot last Saturday. Beverly told detectives that Stancu was accidentally hit while they struggled nude on a bed for his revolver.

Beverly has been in juvenile custody since the shooting. The district attorney issued a complaint against her ex-showgirl mother after viewing pictures of a wild party at the Aadland apartment.

Before going to jail Mrs. Aadland leveled this parting shot at reporters who had waited at the apartment:

"And quit saying I'm 53, because I'm not. I'm only 46."

Mrs. Aadland is charged with permitting Beverly to drink; appearing intoxicated in Beverly's presence; with occupying a bed with a man in her daughter's presence; of permitting Beverly to occupy a bed with a man; and exercising so little supervision that Beverly was left alone when the mother went to a hospital for six days, during which the shooting took place.

Severe Thunderstorms And Possible Tornado Predicted for Area

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A severe thunderstorm forecast, including possibility of an isolated tornado, was issued by the weather bureau today for most of southeastern Kansas, part of west central Missouri and extreme north central Oklahoma.

In a bulletin, it said: "A line of thunderstorms is expected to form from northwestern Missouri through southeastern Kansas early this afternoon and move eastward while a second line will form a little farther west in east central Kansas by the middle of the afternoon and intensify as it moves eastward during the late afternoon and evening."

"A few severe thunderstorms with locally damaging winds, large hail and the possibility of an isolated tornado are expected to occur in the middle or late afternoon today between 2 p.m. and 9 p.m. CST, within an area specifically bounded along and 80 miles east and 80 miles west of a line drawn from a position 20 miles east of Ponca City, Okla., to 30 miles northeast of Kansas City, Mo."

Blair Asks Ike For Federal Flood Help

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. James T. Blair has asked the President to designate much of northern Missouri a disaster area eligible for federal flood aid.

He said the amount of help needed and the exact areas will be submitted later. Meanwhile he estimated property damage to date at about 10 million dollars.

In the past year, Blair estimated, state and local governments have spent more than five million dollars on disaster relief and no more local or state funds are available.

A huge cross will be the magnet for worshippers at Bald Knob, Ill., highest spot in the state, where annual outdoor services are scheduled. The devout from five states take part in the pilgrimage. A rural mail carrier and a country parson originated the observance 23 years ago.

Southward, thousands from many states are expected to begin arriving at midnight for the annual outdoor Easter pageant in the Wichita Mountains near Lawton, Okla. It continues until dawn.

Editor Edward W. Bok's memorial gift, the Bok Singing Tower, will draw nearly 5,000 to a mountain lake sanctuary near Lake Wales, Fla. for sunrise services that have been held annually since 1927.

In Miami's Orange Bowl, 40,000 or more are expected to attend a seven-scene pageant depicting the last days of Christ. The annual feature is presented at Easter sunrise and again in the evening.

Where the Ohio River meets the Big Sandy at Kenova, W.Va., an annual outdoor service will again be held. And in Memorial Stadium in Baltimore, other thousands will gather with the sunrise.

And far to the north, on a pine-crested New Hampshire knoll near Rindge, solemn non-denominational services will be held at sunrise before an altar enshrined to the nation's war dead.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of actor Fernando Lamas' ex-wife in a row over custody of their daughter.

Drug Activity Problems To Kiwanians

James Buchanan, medical service representative for Abbott Laboratories, Chicago, with headquarters in Sedalia, spoke before members of the Sedalia Kiwanis club at the meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

His subject was "The Drug Industry" in which he outlined how reputable manufacturers are being unjustly subjected to charges of monopolistic practices. He took issue with recent statements of Senator Kefauver and certain witnesses in the Congressional investigation.

Buchanan called attention to drug manufacturers' expensive research work, and costs of production which have paralleled costs in other fields. He asserted the price of drugs percentage-wise is no greater than increased charges for products in many other fields. He asked that a fair evaluation be made of publicity statements of government officials and others which often are distorted in their relation to drug manufacturers.

The speaker was introduced by Dan Robinson, program chairman.

The Lenten meditation was given by the Rev. Roy Stribling. Invocation was by the Rev. William Lusk.

Singing was led by Abe Rosenthal with Miss Lillian Fox, accompanist. In song the club recognized the birthday anniversary of Ed McLaughlin.

Guests were Cecil Bliven, Kansas City, with John Garner; and Al Hall with Sylvan Woolery.

Mrs. Elsie Cook Is Granted $15,000

Mrs. Elsie Cook, 40, of 304 East Fourth, was awarded $15,000 by a jury in the U. S. District Court at Jefferson City this week in a damage suit against Mrs. Frieda Dawson, 55, of Omaha, Neb. The case was tried before Judge Richard Duncan.

Mrs. Cook sought damages for injuries suffered in a car accident on U.S. Highway 65, about 10 miles north of Sedalia, on the evening of June 10, 1959. Her car and a car driven by Mrs. Dawson figured in a collision at which time Mrs. Cook's car was overturned, and she suffered severe injuries.

The federal jury took a little more than two and a half hours to reach a verdict in favor of the plaintiff.

Mrs. Cook was represented by John T. Martin and James H. Durley; while Mrs. Dawson, the defendant, was represented by Robert Wesner.

Honey of a Case

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—County officers had a honey of a case but they were happy to turn it over to a city policeman.

Robertson has kept bees as a hobby for 15 years.

Riders End Gallop With No Letter

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A modern Pony Express, beset by problems the original never would have dreamed of, headed for San Francisco today by truck and horse.

Rider Jack Nolan arrived in the state capital Thursday on a tired horse and without the mail.

A shortage of riders, tired horses, an unexpected snowstorm and a disabled truck made the arrival a day late.

"We burned out the valves of the truck engine on the Austin (Nevada) summit," explained driver George Launder.

"Not enough horses and riders," said Nolan, who also lives in Culver City, Calif.

The real Pony Express, which carried the mail from St. Joseph, Mo., to Sacramento in 1860-61, used 70 riders who switched horses regularly during the 1,966-mile gallop.

Nolan, a gunsmith, alternated riding with Bill Cover, a driving instructor. They had four horses.

The original Pony Express started its first run April 3, 1860, and arrived in Sacramento April 13. From here, the mail went on down the Sacramento River to San Francisco by steam boat.

The modern-day version drove in from Placerville, Nolan riding his tired horse only from the city limits.

The mayor's office had telephoned Gov. Edmund G. Brown to tell him that the Pony Express rider was arriving with a letter from Missouri's Governor James T. Blair, Jr.

Then Nolan looked in the pouch and the letter wasn't there. "Forget it," he said. "They forgot to put the letter in our pouch."

Planet Map Making To Be Aided By Radar Developments

CHARLESTON, W. Va. —(AP)—New radar techniques may help determine whether there is life on other planets.

That's the prediction of Dr. F. D. Drake, associate astronomer at the National Radio Astronomy Observatory at Green Bank, W. Va.

Drake, speaking at a space symposium Thursday night, said "remarkable developments" in radar technique have made it possible to draw detailed surface maps of the moon and planets.

"The maps are so accurate that they would show to a very large extent whether there was life on the body being studied. That's because they shadow angles, and if you found something that was vertical you'd know it was probably some sort of plant," he said.

Library Books Taken From Recommended School Reading List

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The California Teachers Assn. reports five American novels, including Ernest Hemingway's "The Sun Also Rises," were removed from the Andrew Hill High School library.

The association disclosed Thursday night it was investigating transfer of teacher Mardel McCullough after parents protested her recommended reading list included J. D. Salinger's "Catcher in the Rye." The parents declared the books too sophisticated for teenagers.

Miss McCullough, who prepared the list for an advanced English course, was transferred last February to another school in the district.

The other recommended books removed from the school library were Aldous Huxley's "Brave New World," Thomas Wolfe's "Look Homeward Angel," and William Saroyan's "Human Comedy." Anne J. Freedland, school board vice president, declared, "The board certainly had nothing to do with removing these books. Frankly, I don't know who did. We are definitely investigating the case." Louis Harbor, the school principal, was unavailable for comment.

DISCIPLES OF CHRIST
CHRISTIAN CHURCHES

Can Christians Ever Work Together?

One of a series of reports about the Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ), the largest religious body to originate in America.

SINCE THE early 1800's when the first Christian Churches were founded, we have been working to bring all Christians together.

There have been many real problems, but today there is a strong spirit of unity growing in almost every area of Christianity. Many groups are setting aside minor differences to concentrate on major agreements.

Today there are local, national and international organizations which are concentrating their Christian efforts. Our Christian Churches have been active in this unification (known today as the "ecumenical" movement). We do not suggest that long-established denominations surrender their characteristics, but we admire the way so many are emphasizing the beliefs on which we all agree.

The Christian Churches will continue to strive for this unity, believing it is inherent in the nature of the Church and can best advance the Kingdom of God. It also demonstrates the value of Christian living.

The door of every Christian Church is open to you.

Easter Temptation

The joyous Easter season. It's here again. So is Spring.

Altogether, Sedalia's churches are likely to have increased attendance augmented by the once-a-year penitents.

But after church what will everybody do? Be over eager to get out on the open road, speed to the lake, or go elsewhere to breath deep the fresh air of a new season?

The question is, how long will some of these motorists breathe in this air.

Will this joyful season for so many turn into a calamity as it did last year in Missouri? Families and friends of 18 people mourned their deaths on Missouri highways during Holy Week and Easter observance in 1959.

After a bitter winter and restraint upon pleasure driving, the current warm weather at this Easter time offers a kind of temptation that ought to be resisted with all the will power an individual can command. That temptation is carelessness, lack of alertness, inattention to traffic rules if one must take a motor trip on the highways or rural roads. Last year there were 13 motor fatalities in rural areas and five on city streets during a similar week end at Easter time.

Going to church Easter Sunday should be spiritually stimulating on this Holy occasion. The lessons of the day should include strengthening every individual's will power against many temptations, one of which is the impulse to get out on the highway and murder or maim other motorists.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Gulf-to-Canada Pipeline Delayed

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Preliminary congressional probing has only scratched the surface in digging into the operations of "Tommy the Cork" Corcoran and the Federal Power Commission.

In the background is the biggest pipeline in the history of North America and in some respects the basic question of whether the USA is going to win out against Khrushchev's challenge that Communism will bury us.

What the Russians have done is to plan a 2,000-mile pipeline from the Black Sea to the Baltic and then, without any bickering or backstage manipulating, go ahead and build it.

What the United States and Canada did was to plan five years ago for a pipeline of about the same length from the gas-oil fields of the Gulf of Mexico to the rich fields of Central Canada, and then proceed to bicker and backstage lobby so that it isn't built yet.

The Trans-Canada Transmission Co. was the pet project of C. D. Howe, Massachusetts-born Canadian Minister of defense production, who dreamed of a gas-oil link insuring a stable supply to both Canada and the United States. However, when Howe's liberal government was defeated, the new Diefenbaker government almost failed to renew the license. In fact, it was not renewed until two weeks ago.

A discontented Dream

The American link in this huge pipeline connection was the dream of Gardiner Symonds, head of Tennessee Gas Transmission and his Washington attorney, Tom Corcoran, who as a member of the Roosevelt brain trust had helped Harold Ickes pioneer the big and little inch pipelines, then considered almost revolutionary.

Just as the big and little inch pipelines were fought by John L. Lewis and the coal interests, so the Gulf-Canada pipeline was fought by rival gas interests. The backstage battle to stop this pipeline — or else share in it — included such powerful figures as the Tom Dewey law firm of New York, the Dulles law firm, plus some of the remnants of the old Insull utility empire in the Midwest.

At one time the heads of three of these companies held a confidential meeting at the Chicago Club with Gardiner Symonds of Tennessee Gas, demanding that he sell them three-quarters interest in the pipeline to Canada. They hadn't originated the dream, yet they wanted a piece of it. Another secret meeting took place in the Carlton Hotel in Washington, Jan. 3, 1957 to renew this demand — or else.

The three who participated were John Meriam of Northern Natural Gas, Ralph McElveny of American Natural Gas, and James Oates of Peoples Gas Light and Coke. All three have since been indicted, and the man who is blamed by the gas industry for goading the Justice Department to bring the indictments — is Tommy Corcoran. That's why the gas industry leaked word of his huddles with FCC commissioners.

Lobbying For Gas Prices

At about the same time that gas distributors were manipulating backstage to block the Gulf-Canada pipeline, the oil-gas producers were manipulating backstage with Congress to pass a Natural Gas Act removing the power commission's right to regulate the price of gas. That too failed.

However, the man who was president of the Natural Gas Lobbying Committee, Leonard F. McCollum, testified before a Senate Committee June 14, 1956 that his group had spent $1,753,513 "to educate the public" on the dangers of federal regulation.

This is the same Leonard McCollum who is president of Continental Oil, a member of the big four CATCO Combine which tried to sell gas to Tennessee Gas Transmission for use in its Gulf-Canada pipeline at the high price of 22.4 cents per thousand feet. And despite McCollum's fears of federal regulation, the Federal Power Commission ok'd this high price. It bowed to the gas industry.

Only Commissioner William Connole, the consumers' champion, dissented.

In the end and after a long battle through the courts, McCollum fears proved justified. For Connole's lone dissent served as a guide for the ringing opinion by Justice Tom Clark of the Supreme Court against the gas companies. He warned that the 22.4-cent price created dangerous price plateaus, and that 17.5 cents was enough.

It was following this that the White House refused to reappoint Commissioner Connole, champion of the consumer, to the Federal Power Commission.

Note — Final fact is that the five-year struggle to build a Gulf-Canada pipeline has not yet been quite successful. On April 2, the Canadian Cabinet finally ok'd the sale of gas and the construction of a pipeline from Trans-Canada through Winnipeg to the U.S. border. And the Federal Power Commission has ok'd the construction of a line from Emerson, Manitoba to Marshfield, Wis., under the jurisdiction of Tennessee Gas. But they will not connect. There will be a gap between Chicago and Wisconsin. Meanwhile the Russians are pushing their through pipeline from the Black Sea to the Baltic.

Under The Dome

Though the White House was smart in appointing Harold Baynton, Democratic counsel to Senator Magnuson's Commerce Committee, to replace Commissioner Connole, it hasn't gone down well with a lot of people, including Baynton. He has high respect for Connole, doesn't like the idea of pushing him out of a job. . . . The Federal Power Commission will now be lopsided with Westerners—Jerome Kuykendall of Washington state, Arthur Kline of Wyoming, and Baynton of Nevada. This leaves the heavy gas-consuming states of the East, which have to worry about the price of gas, with no voice on the Commission. . . . Sen. George Aiken of Vermont, Republican, plans to do battle at the White House over freezing Connole out of the FCC. He points out that New England, with rugged winters and no coal or gas of its own, is one of the heaviest gas consumers and deserves some say in fixing the price of gas. Instead, its lone Commissioner, Connole of Connecticut, is being given the gate.

Wet Noodles, 20 Paces

This is the season when some politicians rise to challenge others to debates on the hustings. The challenge usually carries with it the clear implication that the other fellow doesn't dare do it.

Actually, such challenges are accepted fairly often, but they seldom prove very much. Since most of the time political debaters don't really stick to a common ground of issues, the results are usually pretty inconclusive.

Politicians by nature are given to answering each other at tangents and with glancing blows. Their defense normally is a new offense. There's no reason to imagine they'll abandon this habit merely because they're speaking from the same platform the same day—and they don't.

On rare occasions public debates have really had impact on the voters. Back in 1948, Thomas E. Dewey just about did Harold Stassen in on a national radio hookup. He swept the Oregon primary and killed Stassen's presidential hopes.

But don't look for much of that. Most of the time the debates are almost as dull as if the two candidates were speaking on their own. And you know what that's like.

The World Today

Presidential Ambitions Chilled

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican party leaders last fall treated Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York like a gate-crasher at an exclusive party where Vice President Richard M. Nixon was the guest of honor.

So out he went, but under his own power.

The frigid treatment he got so chilled his presidential ambitions — or at least his enthusiasm for making a race of it against Nixon — that the day after last Christmas he withdrew and left Nixon alone in the field.

What he said and what he left unsaid have to be balanced against each other. He said he was no longer a candidate but he didn't say he would object if the Republicans at their convention this summer decided to draft him.

He made no bones about the way Republicans around the country treated him. The professional Republican politicians, that is.

He said: "The great majority of those who will control the Republican convention stand opposed to any contest for the nomination."

But that didn't dim what seemed to be his belief he is a better man for the presidency than Nixon. From that day to this he has never once given his backing to Nixon by name.

And now, just as Nixon is running into some small bumps, comes the news that Rockefeller is going to resume his travels among Republicans around the country.

Nixon, who seemed a shoo-in for the Republicans' presidential nomination at their convention, has stayed pretty mum all year, as if speeches and statements on where he stands would be practically unnecessary till the campaign begins.

This was a little reminiscent — but in reverse — of New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in the 1948 presidential race.

Dewey did a lot of talking in the pre-convention days that year when he was trying to beat Sen. Robert A. Taft and Harold Stassen for the Republican nomination.

When he finally got it he seemed to believe what the pollsters told him: That he was a cinch to beat President Truman.

During the campaign Dewey acted like a man who felt so sure he'd win that he didn't think it necessary to commit himself on the issues or promise much when he got elected.

It was a disaster. Truman worked his head off, his victory over Dewey — it was the second presidential campaign Dewey had lost — sent the governor to the political showers permanently. He's never run for anything since.

Now Nixon doesn't know whether he's hearing the sounds of distant thunder. But a couple of little clouds have drifted across his political sun. His ratings in the polls have dipped.

Last week in total votes cast in the Wisconsin presidential primary he trailed the two Democrats, Sens. John F. Kennedy and Hubert H. Humphrey. True, he didn't campaign in Wisconsin but he was unopposed for the Republican vote.

This week, again running unopposed but this time in the Illinois Republican presidential primary, he was more than 150,000 votes behind the total rolled up by Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas, running unopposed for another Senate term. Nixon didn't campaign in Illinois, either.

But, on the heels of the Illinois results, the Denver (Colo.) Post editorially said "Rockefeller appears to be the most attractive Republican candidate that could be offered to the people of the United States this year. . . ."

Here in Washington some mumbling among Republicans began: That Nixon had better start talking and campaigning before the convention. But Sen. Everett Dirksen, Senate Republican leader, seemed to think things were going just dandy for Nixon.

"I think," Dirksen said, "his present technique is pretty good."

Now Rockefeller will begin moving around again, although this time campaigning in other states for Republicans running for various jobs. And he will take part in ceremonies.

So he'll be getting out among Republicans again. He may not be making a direct pitch for the Republican nomination but he'll be pitching the Rockefeller personality all over the country.

Exists All Over State

Racial, Religious Prejudice Varies

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The Missouri Advisory committee's report to the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights indicates that "racial and religious discrimination and segregation in housing exists in varying degrees in all sections of the state."

Chairman Rev. Lee F. Soxman of Rolla, formerly of Sedalia, made these observations based on state-wide responses seeking factual information on housing, voting, employment, public accommodations, education as related to civil rights.

Voting: Voting procedures and opportunities are available to all citizens regardless of race or creed.

Employment: Widespread discrimination against the Negro exists. When employed, they are generally relegated to unskilled labor, domestic, and menial tasks. The first to be discharged, they constitute the greater share of jobless persons. About one out of four Negroes states that "their labor unions were doing nothing to upgrade or improve their status."

Public accommodations: Missouri hotels, restaurants, cafeterias, motels and theatres are closed to Negroes. Only in St. Louis, Kansas City, Columbia and Jefferson City can Negroes be accommodated in hotels. Discrimination also exists in recreational facilities, such as bowling alleys, skating rinks, swimming pools, and golf courses.

Education: Desegregation has started, but the vast majority of Negro pupils are still attending segregated schools as the direct result of residential segregation. Desegregation has brought a decrease in number of Negro teachers, who are not welcomed in mixed schools.

In all the 11 public colleges reporting, the student body is representative of both races. In only two public colleges are members of both races employed as regular staff members. These are Harris Teachers college and Lincoln University.

Other members of the Missouri Advisory committee are: Secretary, Mrs. Frankie M. Freeman of St. Louis; Dr. Lorenzo Greene of Jefferson City; Abe Kaplan of Kansas City; Dean J. Norman McDonough of University City; John I. Robbins of St. Louis; and the Rev. Arnold A. Wessler of St. Louis.

Nadler, who flunked a census taker's exam last month, got a job with a St. Louis store. He sold his first set Thursday.

Nadler said he is working on a salary-commission basis. He didn't say how much the salary is.

"I took the job partly because it means getting out and seeing people and partly because I can use the money," he said.

He said he still has some quiz show money left but "not enough to last me forever."

TV Quiz Winner Back Into Industry Selling TV Sets

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Teddy Nadler, who won $264,000 on television quiz shows, is back in the industry — selling TV sets.

Nadler, who flunked a census taker's exam last month, got a job with a St. Louis store. He sold his first set Thursday.

Nadler said he is working on a salary-commission basis. He didn't say how much the salary is.

"I took the job partly because it means getting out and seeing people and partly because I can use the money," he said.

He said he still has some quiz show money left but "not enough to last me forever."

W. Va. Shapes Up To Be Very Different Donkey Race

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— West Virginia's primary May 10 will be a different kind of donkey race for Democratic presidential aspirants John Kennedy and Hubert Humphrey.

There will be no crossing-over by West Virginia Republicans to vote Democratic and distort the result as in the Wisconsin primary.

Just how much crossing over there was is indicated by one statistic:

The total Democratic vote of $50,000 in the Wisconsin primary was 200,000 greater than the number that elected Wisconsin's Democratic governor, Gaylord Nelson, in '58.

Experts, rival candidates and political press agents are analyzing this year's figures to exhaustion. No two persons agree on who crossed over where and what for, and nobody will ever know for sure.

In summary what the Wisconsin primary proves is that Kennedy won a little under 2.7 per cent of the 761 convention delegates' votes he will need to get the Democratic presidential nomination at Los Angeles.

Humphrey won half that, but maintains that this by no means knocks him out of the race. And in West Virginia he thinks he has a chance to even the score, in spite of early polls to the contrary.

West Virginia has 25 convention delegates' votes at stake. Nixon is not entered in the Republican primary. This leaves Kennedy and Humphrey to fight it out man-to-man and without complicating factors.

The result should show whose bread is buttered better.

West Virginia had no presidential primary in '56. In '52, the state had no Democratic contest in the presidential primary—the opposite of this year's situation. In '52 the late Senator Taft beat Stassen 139,000 to 39,000. The state went for Stevenson in '52, Eisenhower in '56.

But today West Virginia has a Republican governor, Cecil H. Underwood, two Democratic U.S. senators and five out of six Democratic congressmen. The legislature is Democratic 23 to 9 in the Senate, 85 to 15 in the House. So this sets the stage for a real Democratic knock-out battle.

West Virginia's Catholic population is put at 7 to 8 per cent of the state total, as compared to Wisconsin's 30 per cent Catholic population.

Most observers seem to agree that the religious issue is going to be a factor this year, though nobody is sure how much or which way.

Both candidates try to minimize it and are now accusing press, radio and TV of stirring controversy.

Kennedy's sample surveys in West Virginia have shown him ahead of Humphrey by ratios varying from 7 to 3 to 3 to 1. These polls were made in the first two and a half months of the year.

The UMW, whose local union officers have a pretty good ear underground, have reported a change in sentiment in recent weeks.

Earlier in the predominantly Protestant southern part of the state, even miners who were for Humphrey said Kennedy would win.

A more recent UMW sounding in northern part of the state, where the Catholic population is more concentrated around the Wheeling industrial area, indicates Humphrey may have greater strength.

Take your pick. In the meantime, Kennedy and Humphrey have both begun their month's barnstorming. Kennedy is campaigning by car through the mountains.

Kennedy is also entered in the Massachusetts primary April 26, Indiana May 3 and Nebraska May 10. He is unopposed, but he has to show, thus spreading himself thin.

Humphrey, on the other hand, has only the District of Columbia primary May 3, so he is concentrating on West Virginia. He has already scheduled 10 days of campaigning, traveling by chartered bus as in Wisconsin.

Democrat Pick-ups

Odds and Ends By News Staff

A GROUP OF women get together for dinners quite often, and there is always a special one for birthdays, with a cake and gift. A mother and daughter are in the group and it happened that the mother was entertaining at the time for her daughter's birthday. She found herself very rushed for time, so she suggested to the daughter that she pick out her own gift and wrap it, which she did. She bought the card, too, and signed all the names to it, which was their usual custom.

Of course, this eliminated all the surprise, but at least she didn't get something she didn't want, and she was willing to help her mother out. But when her mother said, "Jane, why don't you bake the cake," that was too much.

"I draw the line there," said Jane, "I took care of the gift and the card, but when it comes to baking my own birthday cake, I am just not going to. Somebody else is going to have to do that." She had done just as much as she was going to do on giving herself a birthday party.—H.L.

In movies, horrors of the deep often take the form of giant squid and octopuses who attack helpless swimmers. The "flying squid" which roams many waters has been known to leap across the water and land on the decks of small ships. Fortunately, he is only a very small relative of the giant squid of the North Atlantic—the largest of the invertebrate animals. This monster has reached the record length of 52 feet, including his outstretched tentacles.

Sunday School Lesson Notes:

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
An eminent British scholar, Dr. J. Agar Beet, once wrote and published a very large book to prove that the resurrection of Jesus was, as he claimed, "the best attested fact in history."
It is a great many years since I read it, and it is no longer on my book shelves. As far as I can remember, his argument was that the centuries since Christ were unexplainable except upon the fact that Jesus survived the crucifixion and that this quickened the disciples into new activity that changed the course of history.
I do not know about the historical argument, but there can be no question concerning the spiritual reality.

The fact stands that a group of men had left all to follow a Master, largely in the hope that He was going to set up an earthly kingdom.
They were in frustration and gloom when they saw Him die on a cross. As one of them expressed it:
"We trusted it was He who should have redeemed Israel."
Unexplainable, except upon the fact that they believed Jesus to be their living Lord, is the historic fact of their sudden reawakening, the intensity of their new faith as they went forth to conquer the world in accordance with their Lord's commission.
The accounts of the resurrection vary in detail.
But the account that to me means more than all others is the story in Luke 24 of the two disciples on the way to Emmaus. The miraculous tends to take on legendary embellishments, but what marks this story in Luke is its simple directness and its spiritual quality. It is not a wonder story.
If one wonders how a stranger could join two travelers, become real and communicative and as suddenly disappear, it may be said that in the history of psychic phenomena incidents as strange have occurred.
But the Emmaus story needs no external psychic verification. It bears the marks of its inherent authenticity. It is the spiritual incidence that is its verification.
It is the Easter story that to me brings chiefly the sensing of the risen Christ as a companion on my travels. If He vanishes from sight as of old there is the sense of a living Presence, vivid to the eyes of faith. If we have been "slow of heart to believe," this Presence quickens the vision of "all that the prophets have spoken."
If you doubt it, read Luke 24 again, and join the two on the way to Emmaus, and the One whom they met.

Medical Professor Charges New Products Not Checked Enough

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A medical professor charged Wednesday night competition among drug firms is so great that new preparations sometimes are released for sale before adequate clinical trial.
Dr. Carl V. Moore, professor of medicine and former dean of the Washington University School of Medicine, recommended to the St. Louis County Medical Society that a closer look be taken "to see if there are areas where we are doing as good a job as possible."
He told some 100 physicians and druggists attending the meeting there are strong disadvantages to the use of combinations of antibiotics in "shotgun therapy."
An official of one of the nation's larger drug firms, Henry F. DeBoest of Eli Lilly, cited figures indicating the drug industry profit is 12.3 per cent. He said this was not out of line with other industries. DeBoest, executive director in charge of sales, said figures brought out before the Kefauver Senate committee were distorted and out of context.

Women Step Into Pulpits In Sweden

By CARL O. BOLANG
STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Three women stepped into pulpits of Sweden's Lutheran State Church last week amid a storm of criticism and episcopal threats of boycott.
The three, all unmarried, are the first women in Swedish history to be ordained priests.
The question whether to let women take priestly office has divided the Swedish State Church into two camps and has rocked relations between the Church and the State.
Some bishops campaigned for a boycott of the first women priests, while others, including Archbishop Gunnar Hultgren of Upsala, the primate of Sweden, have welcomed them into their dioceses. Still others have not made up their minds.
The clergy against women priests base their argument on the first epistle of Paul to the Corinthians:
"Let women keep silence in the churches (1 Cor. 14:34)."
And the church assembly, an advisory body composed of 50 clergymen and 50 laymen, in 1958 voted 69-29 against female ministers. Two members abstained.
But the women priests have law on their side.
The priestly offices were made available to them by an act of Parliament that went into effect on Jan. 1, 1959.
Soft-spoken, scholarly Archbishop Hultgren conferred the orders on one of the women, the Rev. Margit Sahlin, 46, in the chapel of the St. Catherine Foundation outside Stockholm last Sunday.
The other women priests are Elizabeth Djurle, 30, and Ingrid Persson, 47, who were ordained at Stockholm Cathedral and Haer-

Old Men Have Put Dodgers In First Place With Giants

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

So it's early yet and it may not mean a thing, but Duke Snider and Gil Hodges, too old to do it again, and Ed Roebuck, a forgotten reliever, have the Los Angeles Dodgers in first place at the moment.

Snider belted a home run, his first hit of the season, and Hodges triggered a two-run ninth that gave Roebuck his first victory since 1957 in a 3-2 decision over winless St. Louis Thursday night. That hoisted the world champs into a share of the National League lead with San Francisco and the Chicago Cubs, who handed the Giants their first loss, 6-5, with a walk and wind-blown double in the ninth.

The Milwaukee Braves blew a three-run lead and lost 5-4 in 10 innings to the Philadelphia Phillies, left without a manager when Eddie Sawyer called it quits earlier in the day. The Pittsburgh Pirates walloped Cincinnati 13-0 behind Vern Law's seven-hit pitching.

A bases-loaded wild pitch by losing reliever Bob (Och) Dilliba won it for the Dodgers.

The Giants, who overcame Ernie Banks' third-inning grand slam homer with home runs by Willie Kirkland and Willie McCovey, were beaten when reliever Billy O'Dell walked Bob Will in the ninth and Thomas lofted a two-out fly ball. The ball dropped for a double behind short and Will was home. Don Elston, second of four Cub pitchers, won in relief of starter Seth Morehead, who gave up a third Giant homer to Orlando Cepeda.

The Phillies, directed by Coach Andy Cohen while awaiting the arrival of new manager Gene Mauch from the Minneapolis Millers of the American Assn., chased Milwaukee starter Carl Willey with three sixth-inning runs on homers by Bobby Del Greco and winning reliever Don Cardwell. In the 10th, Del Greco walked, stole second against losing reliever Juan Pizarro and scored on Joe Koppe's single.

Law, Pittsburgh's top winner last year, didn't walk a man and struck out two. The Bucs, rapped Cal McLish, a Cleveland ace last season, for five extra base hits and a 5-0 lead in three innings. Bob Clemente, 3-for-3, drove in five runs and Bill Mazerowski, who homered, drove in four as Law won his fifth in a row against the Reds at Forbes Field since 1956.

Braves Move Mathews To Infield Defense

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Hard-hitting Eddie Mathews had a new job with the Milwaukee Braves today.

Manager Charlie Dressen named him as the "take charge guy" on defense in the infield Thursday night.

Dressen said that when he played third base he was the "policeman" of the infield and he wanted Mathews "to do the same for us."

Red Schoendienst, veteran second baseman who had made a comeback after being out a year with tuberculosis was the infield director in 1958 but Dressen believes "he's got more things to do and look out for at second base."

"That's why I'm picking Mathews for the job," Dressen said. "He doesn't have as much to worry about at third."

Dressen's decision to make Mathews the infield leader was greeted with pleasure by catcher Del Crandall.

"I think Eddie is a leader," Del said. "He has a great deal of respect from all of us on the team."

"He isn't what you call a holler guy, but he's a leader just the same—he leads by example and is in there playing hard all the time."

"The guy has an all-around personality that commands respect and he's sacrificed himself personally more than once for the good of the club."

Medicine Check Comes After Dog, Cat Foods

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—A doctor testified today the government inspects some dog and cat foods more closely than it inspects medicines prescribed for ailing humanity.

Dr. Solomon Garb, of the teaching staff of Albany (N.Y.) Medical College, called the situation incongruous but true. He suggested that Congress provide for continuing government inspection of drugs rather than periodic checks of their purity and potency.

His testimony was prepared for the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee's drug hearings. This is the last day of scheduled hearings in the current phase of the subcommittee's long investigation of alleged profiteering, monopoly practices and other abuses in the prescription drug manufacturing industry.

Dr. Garb said some brands of cat and dog food are produced "under continuous government inspection" by government inspectors stationed in the plants.

"By contrast," he said, "a physician cannot today prescribe U.S. government inspected drugs for a sick patient because there is no program of continuous government inspection of medication."

Work Underway
On a Universe
Studying Scope

SUGAR GROVE, W.Va. (AP)—The giant radio telescope which is being built for the Navy here is an engineering project of staggering size, quite apart from the fact that it is expected to push study of the universe far behind present limits.

Construction is only 4 per cent finished and completion is at least two years off. But Navy scientists, engineers and builders vouch for these statements:

It will be not only the world's biggest radio telescope, but also the world's largest movable structure.

The highest point will be 665 feet above the ground, the equivalent of a 66-story building. The Washington Monument is 555 feet high.

The main part of the structure will be "the big dish," a saucer-shaped antenna 600 feet in diameter. It will tune in on radio waves given off by stars and planets.

Congress already has provided 79 million dollars for the project, to be known as the U.S. Naval

FACT

One way to get rich in the days of sailing ships was to salvage stores from a shipwreck. Thieves took advantage of this by rigging decoy lights to lure ships onto the rocks. The practice was called "moon-cussing," probably because when the moon came out a ship's captain would see the trap. The cutthroats on the shore would "cuss" the moon.

Radio Research Station. But before it is finished, the project may cost more than 100 million dollars.

Tax Recovery Suit
Filed in Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A prominent Kansas City banker and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. R. Crosby Kemper Sr., filed suit in U. S. District court to recover $50,220 they paid on their federal income tax for 1955, plus $10,838 interest.

The Kempers contend they are entitled to the refund because of charitable contributions amounting to $56,427 during 1955.

The deduction was claimed, the suit states, through transfer of property to the R. Crosby Kemper Charitable Trust and Foundation, a philanthropic organization established by the Kempers.

Kemper is chairman of the board of the City National Bank and Trust Co.

MUSICAL AMERICA—As the number of civic orchestras and amateur musicians continue to soar, piano sales afford a ready barometer of U.S. musical interests. From a figure of 135,000 units in 1949, keyboard sales have trended upwards. Last year 198,000 were sold. Low notes reflect economic recessions of '49, '54, '57 and '58.

Entertainment In Mass Production Is Inadequate

NEW YORK (AP) — Director Sidney Lumet believes there is one thing wrong with mass-produced entertainment—it doesn't entertain the masses.
"Entertainment in the future

Takes Weight Off Fast; Gains Fast

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Remember William Bendix' daughter who underwent a radical stomach operation that dropped her weight from 297 pounds to 118 in a year—a loss of 179 pounds?

Bendix, relaxing in his dressing room between scenes of "Overland Trail," told a reporter that his daughter has since eaten herself back to 250 pounds.

"You can't blame the doctor or the operation," says Bendix. "Lorraine, like most heavy people, just loves to eat. She'll eat 10 meals a day—even steals food from her own refrigerator."

Lorraine herself once said that she ate around the clock, mostly starches and sweets. Then her blood pressure got so high that doctors feared for her life. Her height is 5 feet 2.

In 1956, she was three pounds shy of 300. Her doctor advised a new operation that caused food to bypass the digestive process. "I figured my life was at stake, so I underwent the operation," said Lorraine.

For a year after the operation, she said, she lived and ate as before—except that her appetite was curtailed. The pounds dropped off until she was a svelte 118—her blood pressure normal.

In May, 1957, Lorraine, then 27, had another operation to restore her digestive tract to normal. For awhile, her father reports, she stayed slim, but the love of food got the better of her.

Bendix reports that he and his daughter received thousands of letters from all over the world about the operation.

"The doctor also heard from medical societies, some of which thought it too daring an operation for weight reduction. Now they'll say it was a failure because Lorraine is getting back up there but that's not the doctor's fault."

Bendix, who is no Tony Curtis around the waistline, sympathizes with his daughter.

"Lorraine takes after me. I love to eat, too. I love the smell of cooking. It's one of the great joys of life. It's too bad it has to be so unhealthy."

will have to do more than just divert a man from his worries," he said. "It will have to give him something."

"Man is getting a lot more curious. He wants something in his life that will make him feel differently, to see differently—a sense of discovery."

"He is not just looking for a sleeping pill."

At 35, Lumet, who began acting at the age of 5, has put his directorial stamp on several hundred television shows, two Broadway plays and four films.

The young director has an acid disdain for big-business influence in the creative fields.

"The greatest danger in the entertainment future is that, as the need for more entertainment grows and more money can be made, it will become more organized on an assembly-line basis," he said.

"But I don't believe mass-produced entertainment winds up as real entertainment. It winds up as time-filler—like so many drops of water on the head."

"And the pay-TV boys won't solve the problem. They'll only be making you pay for 'Queen for a Day' instead of letting you see it for nothing."

"An interesting thing to me is that not one of the pay-TV systems has guaranteed that it won't carry paid advertising—not one."

"They're not going to take a chance. They're going to try to get it both ways."

Lumet feels that an unwillingness to take chances is the curse of "the business mentality" and bigness itself in the entertainment field.

"The business mind keeps looking for a safety area—for an absolutely sure thing."

"There is no such thing in entertainment. It's an out-and-out gamble—like a horse race."

"The stereotype that most Hollywood movies have become results from the business mentality trying to duplicate success. The theory is that if one car looks good you make 12 more like it. The theory may hold good for Detroit, but it hasn't worked out in Hollywood."

"The story of entertainment is that we don't know for sure in advance what is good. I don't know anybody except business executives who are certain what an audience wants or will come to see—and they are constantly wrong."

Unemployment Compensation Not Ruled On

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Circuit Judge Sam C. Blair said today he did not rule on the right of strikers to get unemployment compensation when he threw out a Standard Oil Co. request for an injunction Tuesday.

About 100 striking employees of Standard Oil's Sugar Creek Refinery were involved in the case. They applied for unemployment benefits after being laid off from temporary jobs.

The state Employment Security Division first ruled they were not entitled to compensation but later reversed that ruling. Standard Oil's appeal from the decision is pending before the agency's appeal board.

In a memorandum of explanation, Judge Blair clarified his ruling by noting that the validity of the unemployment benefits was not an issue before him in the injunction case.

"What I am ruling is simply, in these circumstances," he said, "that I have no right to intervene in the procedures established by the general assembly under the Missouri employment security law, on the theory that the authorities acting under that law may violate that law."

"If I were authorized to intervene in this manner, all courts would be constantly supervising and monitoring the actions of administrative bodies, step by step, from first to last, until those bodies finally arrived at a decision."

"Our constitution and laws provide for a review of their actions by courts when those actions become final, and I do not believe that in this instance, or others I can imagine, that I have the right to stand over this body, as big brother, and to tell it how it shall conduct its procedures, one by one, until it reaches the end of its work."

California Governor Signs Law Requiring Car Fumes Suppressor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A law that will eventually require a fume suppressor on every new car sold in California was signed Wednesday by Gov. Edmund Brown. As yet there is no such device on the market.

The antimog bill he signed into law creates a state motor vehicle pollution control board which is to test and certify devices which are expected to cost the owners of the state's eight million cars between $60 and $150 each.

No new car can be registered in the state unless it has such a device within a year after the certification of two or more vehicles.

Most commonly mentioned devices are a chemical afterburner, in which exhaust is burned off by a chemical agent, or a simple afterburner, in which it is burned off by fire.

Counties without smog may exempt used cars. Owners of used passenger cars in smog areas must have the devices within three years after certification. Tourists are not affected.

Kansas Citian Held

HAVANA (AP) — Naomi Stevens, 32, a former resident of Kansas City, still is in custody on a charge of passing a counterfeit 20-peso Cuban banknote.

Authorities were reported to be working on the theory a counterfeiting ring has printed up to two million pesos in Cuban banknotes and is smuggling them to Cuba by way of Florida and the Bahamas.

Miss Stevens was picked up at a Havana hotel Monday. The next day police arrested Marilyn Menger, 25, and Martin Silverman, 33-year-old taxi driver, both from Miami.

Police said they were trying to determine if there was any connection between Miss Stevens and the two from Florida.

Ball Season, Religion On TV Program

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Religious observances, a freshet of specials and the beginning of the baseball season bid to make the next seven days especially rewarding to television viewers.

Tonight, alas, there is a conflict. A Jerry Lewis romp on NBC starts at 8:30 (Eastern Standard Time) while CBS has "The Man in the Funny Suit," a dramatization of Ed Wynn's show business comeback, starting at 9.

Saturday is notable for the opening game in NBC's major league baseball series, starting at 1:30 p.m. That evening there will be a musical fantasy, "The Man in the Moon," on NBC (8:30-9:30) starring Andy Williams, and followed by a World Wide 60 documentary, "The Way of the Cross," recounting the last week in the life of Christ.

Easter morning brings Protestant and Catholic services on both NBC and CBS. "Frontiers of Faith (NBC, 1:30-2 p.m.) will be a drama with an Easter theme. CBS' Twentieth Century (6:30-7 p.m.) recaptures the flavor of "Paris in the Twenties." On Easter Eve (8-9) NBC will broadcast a program of religious music from the Mormon Temple in Salt Lake City. And instead of the Dinah Shore Show (NBC, 9-10) there will be a program performed by some 200 children.

The June Allyson Show (CBS, 10:30-11) Monday night will star Myrna Loy in one of her rare TV appearances in a drama called "Surprise Party." A pep rally designed to bring out the November vote will occupy NBC's Startime (8:30-9:30) Tuesday night, with appearances by rafts of political and show business luminaries.

"Ninotchka," will be done over as an ABC special Wednesday evening (8:30-10) with Maria Schell in the Garbo role, Gig Young and Zsa Zsa Gabor. In addition, Bob Hope winds up his season (NBC, 9-10) and CBS's Steel Hour (10-11) has a mystery called "The Girl Who Knew too Much."

CBS' Show of the Month on Thursday night (8-9:30) is a TV adaptation of Ruth Gordon's autobiographical play, "Years Ago". Stars are Sandra Church and Robert Preston. At 10 that night CBS Reports will talk with Dr. Tom Dooley in "The Biography of a Cancer."

At Public Meeting Wednesday Night

More Need Than Ever for New School Changes, Official Says

Dr. George Englehart, director of school building services, Missouri State Department of Education, who has familiarized himself with Sedalia's public school problems during previous bond proposal studies, was the principal speaker at the school bond meeting Wednesday night at Smith-Cotton High School.

"I spent a considerable time in past years reviewing the needs of the Sedalia public school system. I noted today that there has not been a great change in the situation, except that there are more people here than before, and the need for expansion of the school's physical plant is more pressing," Englehart said.

He pointed out that since 1955, when he made the last study, there has been an actual increase of 504 pupils—enough to justify the need for a brand-new school building for these pupils alone.

These pupils have been scattered throughout the system, however, and the increase has been absorbed by the different schools, which otherwise would have been overwhelming for just one school. The increase, however, has crowded all of the schools, some more than others, he pointed out.

In regard to the construction of a new grade school, as compared to the repair of the Broadway School building, he pointed out that his observation related to type and kind—the type of surroundings and kind of instruction. With this theory in mind, he stated that the student just entering school should have the best possible surroundings, such as plenty of room in a relaxed atmosphere, in order to begin his long period of study in the right way.

Broadway School is not an interested people of Sedalia on their decision to offer the bond proposal at the earliest possible moment.

The Wednesday meeting was the first of a series of such public meetings to be conducted by the Sedalia Citizens' Committee for Better Schools. Announcement of these meetings will be made as soon as plans are completed.

William A. Schien, committee chairman, opened the meeting and explained the program. He introduced the speaker, and after the talk he opened the meeting for discussion. There were numerous questions submitted which were answered by Schien or members of the school staff.

The speaker commended the Board of Education and other in-

Saline Countains Bid Goodbye to Train

Marshall's Last Passenger Train Is Robbed By Sheriff

The Saline County Sheriff, accompanied by a Marshall posse, Thursday staged a daring holdup of the last scheduled passenger train to go through Marshall and Saline County. They made off with several hundred dollars of Confederate money.

Shooting blanks and shouting like the robbers of old, Sheriff Paul Piper and Johnny Woods rode their horses up to the Marshall depot just as the last Gulf, Mobile and Ohio train pulled in.

The "victims" were Marshall and Slater residents who boarded the train at Roodhouse, Ill., the train's starting point, and rode it to Marshall. Some passengers wore costumes of the old days.

Piper and Woods were later captured by the Marshall Chief of Police, Charles Ray Coslet, and his men. The loot was passed out

$315,000 Is Released For WAFB Utilities

The United States Air Force headquarters announced Thursday the USAF has released $315,000 under its military construction program for the Whiteman Air Force Base. The money will be used on what is known as "off base" utilities for Title VIII family housing to be built on the base.

The money is to be used for electrical connections from off base to base facilities, sewers, drainage lines and such utilities that are necessary for the housing on the base, which must be brought in and connected from off base to the base.

Additional housing, which had been denied for lack of bids by contractors recently, are to be brought up for bids again in the near future, it was explained.

Grain Futures Market Scarcely Buds

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market scarcely budged Thursday in one of the duller trading sessions in several weeks.

The Board of Trade will be closed Good Friday.

Wheat was unchanged to 1/4 cent a bushel higher at the close, May $2.05 1/2-06; corn unchanged to 1/4 lower, May $1.19 1/2-19; oats 1/4 higher to 1/4 lower, May 74 1/2; rye 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher, May $1.22 1/4; soybeans 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower, May $2.13 1/2-14.

Kidnaped French Boy Abandoned By Abductors; Dazed But Unhurt

French Pleas Sidetracked

However, Foreign Ministers Are Satisfied With Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Britain Thursday sidetracked French pleas they join the Soviet Union in stepping up economic aid and cutting back weapons shipments to underdeveloped countries.

Foreign ministers of the Big Three Western Allies disagreed on the issues as they wound up a pre-summit harmony conference.

The dispute somewhat dulled their success in forging an otherwise solid front on the Berlin-German and disarmament problems their chiefs will discuss with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at next month's summit conference in Paris.

The Allied foreign ministers, including West Germany's Heinrich von Brentano, pronounced themselves well satisfied with the result of their three days of strategy talks.

"Preparations are well advanced for the effective presentation of the Western position at the summit," a final statement said.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter teamed with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd to block approval of the French proposal advanced at the last session by French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

After some discussion, all three agreed to hand over the controversial proposition, favored by French President Charles de Gaulle, to a committee of Allied diplomats for further study.

Allied spokesmen said disagreement on what they called fringe issues was unimportant compared to their success in bridging differences on key issues the West will discuss with Khrushchev.

In previous sessions the foreign ministers had unanimously agreed to recommend that their chiefs:

1. Press the Soviet Union to negotiate a single German peace treaty based on a free vote by the 70 million Germans in the Western and the Communist sectors of the divided land.

2. Search for a stopgap settlement of their Berlin dispute with the U. S. S. R., if, as seems likely, the Kremlin rejects a solution within the framework of German unity.

3. Offer the Soviet Union "quickie" partial disarmament measures as a means of reducing world tension, if the Soviet Union continues to spurn their sweeping plan for controlling nuclear weapons, missiles and conventional forces.

4. Meet in Paris May 14 with West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer for a final strategy huddle before the summit conference begins.

Spokesmen for all Allied delegations re-emphasized Thursday that the West has no intention of buying off Soviet pressure against Berlin with concessions bigger than those the Soviets rejected at Geneva last June.

They stressed also that they did not believe Khrushchev intended to push the Berlin issue to a crisis at the summit.

Blair Asks For Aid in Flood Areas

Request Is Made to Alleviate Harsh, He Tells Eisenhower

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. James T. Blair Thursday asked federal financial aid for flood stricken areas of Missouri, primarily the northern half of the state.

In a letter to President Eisenhower, channeled through the Office of Civil Defense, Blair said: "This request is made to alleviate the hardship that has been brought on the people of our state. The amount of supplemental federal assistance and the specific areas requiring assistance has not been fully determined at this time but will be compiled, delineated and presented for your consideration at the earliest possible date."

He said the state and its local governments and agencies already had spent in excess of five million dollars for disaster relief in the past 12 months.

Blair reported that heavy snowfall in Missouri and in states to the north, plus a swift melting and runoff caused the floods.

"Hundreds of private citizens, county and city employees," he said, "have assisted in combating the disastrous effects of this flood. The state Highway Department in the affected area has utilized 50,000 man-hours of prisoner labor in around the clock operation, sandbagging levees. The National Guard to date has expended about 5,000 man-hours and the necessary equipment in the flood fight."

In all potential flood areas guard units were alerted for possible disaster work.

"Local Civil Defense volunteers using surplus property equipment worked for countless hours in every available capacity," he said including "sandbagging levees, handling evacuees and mass feeding."

Besides the Missouri River, he said, trouble was experienced on many of the Big Muddy's tributaries, including the Chariton, Grand, Platte, Nodaway, Osage and Gasconade rivers. Flood damage also was felt along the upper Mississippi and many of its tributaries, including the Des Moines, Wyaconda, Fabius, Salt and Cuivre rivers.

He estimated damage to non-federal Missouri River levees at $1,200,000 but "this figure will be substantially increased when estimated."

In Fight Against Racial Policies

South African Negroes Are Asked to Boycott Again

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The outlawed African National Congress called on Negroes Thursday to boycott work again next week in the fight against the government's racial policies.

Trouble could come from revival of the work boycott, a powerful economic weapon in this land where 10 million Negroes provide most of the labor for the farms, factories and homes of three million whites.

The first phases of the stay-at-home movement, crushed by police raids on African settlements last week, showed the nation's vulnerability. Industry slowed. Meat supplies dwindled. Housework suffered.

Pamphlets signed by the emergency committee of the African National Congress and circulated throughout the African settlements of Johannesburg asked all Negroes to join in a one-week work boycott starting next Monday.

The pamphlets made four major demands as "our answer to the savage attack the government has made on us and our leaders" in efforts to quell the racial turmoil.

The demands:

1. "Abolish the passes, which the law requires that all Negroes carry."
2. "Free our leaders."
3. "End the state of emergency."
4. "Lift the ban on our organization."

This defiance of the government of wounded Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd, came amid other developments.

President Mangaliso Sobukwe of the militant Pan-Africanist Congress which is also outlawed, told a Johannesburg court his organization aims at government of Africans by the Africans for the Africans and the complete overthrow of white domination. Sobukwe and 22 aides are on trial on a charge of treason. (Please turn to page 4, column 3)

Breakfast Also Planned

Kangaroo Court Procedure Set Up by Brush Brothers

The Brothers of the Brush met in the second floor ballroom of the Bothwell Hotel Wednesday night and approved the method of operation for the Kangaroo Court, as presented by Verrel Martin, chairman of the court committee.

A Brothers of the Brush breakfast will be held the Saturday of Centennial Week at the Bothwell Hotel.

Damon Hieronymus, treasurer of the group, said that $845 had been collected for the one-dollar shaving permits. He thinks that the rate of sale of the permits will increase because until Easter Sunday it has not been necessary to display a permit or a beard. Sunday marks the break-off point. From then on the Sedalia man will have to either evidence a beard or a permit.

The Kangaroo Court is set up to further the spirit of the Centennial Celebration. Its by-laws call for reasonable fines for offenses. Its jurisdiction reaches to the city limits.

Failure to exhibit facial hair of one inch in length, or, failing this, a shaving permit, will result in trial by the court at the courthouse porch or parking lot. Those convicted will be placed in a movable jailhouse and driven down Ohio Street.

Six 10 minute stops will be made in loading zones to enable the prisoner to solicit nickels from friends and passers-by in order to pay the minimum fine of one dollar with the stipulation that he collect only one nickel apiece from 20 persons.

If the prisoner fails to collect his dollar, he will be fined the amount he does collect plus two dollars. He will then be permitted to buy a shaving permit for an additional dollar.

He Is Found Crying Near Cafe and Bar

No Word Whether Police Have Found Trace of Kidnapers

PARIS (AP)—A four-year-old kidnaped heir to a French automobile making empire was abandoned by his abductors outside a Paris bar late Thursday night and restored to his family.

The boy was found weeping and bewildered. He appeared shocked and dazed but unharmed.

His father, Roland Peugeot, murmured "I can't say anything" as he emerged from a police station with the child clutched in his arms. Tears streamed down the face of the elder Peugeot.

The father was called to the small Chaillot police station near the Peugeot apartment on the swank Avenue Foch to pick up the boy. Police cleared a path for the father as he put the boy in a police car to drive home.

Little Eric stared dazedly at the mass of people and blinked as photographers' flash bulbs popped.

The kidnapers—reported to be two men—had asked $100,000 ransom for the boy's safe return. There was no immediate word on whether the ransom had been paid.

The police announcement that the boy had been found came within a half hour after word that a new note from the kidnapers had been delivered to the Peugeot family.

The note said: "Your son is living and well. Everything will be all right if you keep silent. We will make contact again during the night."

There was no immediate word from police on whether they had found any trace of the kidnapers at the place where Eric was found.

The chubby little boy had been found crying outside a cafe and bar within a half mile of his parents' home. The bar is on the Rue Raymond Poincare in Paris' fashionable 16th arrondissement.

Barman Jean Volphillied told police:

"It was about five minutes after 1 a.m. when a man came in holding a child by the hand. . . I thought immediately of Eric Peugeot and looked at the picture in the newspaper. . . The man who brought the boy in (after finding him on the sidewalk) looked at the paper also and then all the clients around me began to ask the boy his name."

He said the boy replied: "My name is Eric Peugeot."

Customers in the bar cheered. People pressed around to hug the youngster, whose kidnap had shocked all France, a country where kidnaping is extremely rare.

When asked if he had been well

Talks on Such a Move Are in Early Stage

US Is Thinking of Arming North Atlantic Alliance With Polaris

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is giving thought to arming the North Atlantic Alliance with its promising submarine-launched Polaris missile.

A State Department spokesman said Thursday discussions of this possibility began at the Atlantic Pact defense meeting in Paris two weeks ago. He stressed the talks are in a very early stage.

Word of this came a day after Britain junked a major part of its military rocket program and decided to rely on the United States for missiles which would be fired from mobile rather than more vulnerable fixed bases.

The new development fills out a little more the picture of the United States as the missile arsenal of the anti-Communist alliance. State Department press officer

Lincoln White said Britain—which already has been furnished 60 U. S. land-based intermediate-range ballistic missiles—has indicated it would like to get Polaris.

But White said British needs "would necessarily have to be considered in the light of" overall NATO needs.

If it was decided to go ahead, the Polaris rockets would be assigned to the high command of the alliance. This command would deploy them where it thought they would be most effective.

The nuclear warheads would be kept under U. S. control, but White said he understands Britain—an atomic power in its own right—wants to build its own warheads.

The sketchy announcement left open the question of who would build the specially designed submarines to fire any Polaris handed over to NATO.

Most of the NATO nations are maritime powers, but nuclear-powered Polaris subs cost more than 100 million dollars each and there is doubt many could afford a sizable fleet of them.

The U. S. Navy has high hopes for the Polaris, which is approaching the combat-ready stage. First types will have a longer reach.

Its protagonists claim a fleet of 45 submarines firing 16 Polaris each, could clobber the Soviet Union or any other potential foe. And they say its ability to fire from beneath the sea makes the Polaris sub unstoppable by any enemy countermeasures.

Mrs. Stanley S. Merriott

Miss Shirley Kaiser Becomes Bride Of Mr. Stanley Merriott

Miss Shirley Kaiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Kaiser, Cole Camp, became the bride of Stanley S. Merriott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orlyn Merriott, Stover, in a candlelight service at St. John's Lutheran Church, Cole Camp, at half past six Sunday evening, March 20. The Rev. Ernst Mueller, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white mums, ferns and candelabras holding white burning tapers.

A cousin of the bride, Mrs. Kenneth Gardner, Kansas City, at the organ played the wedding music preceding the ceremony and accompanied Mr. David Schnakenberg, soloist, who sang, "Oh Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Lighting the candles were David Kaiser, brother of the bride, Cole Camp, and Terry Merriott, nephew of the groom, Stover.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon net over taffeta. The fitted bodice was designed with long sleeves, pointed over the hands, and a wide bateau neck outlined with applied lace trim. Iridescent rhinestones and pearls were used to highlight the lace pattern of the yoke. The bouffant skirt of lace, accented with a large taffeta bow, was fashioned with an insert of small pleats flowing into a chapel length train. The bride designed her own gown which was made by her mother. The elbow length veil of nylon tulle cascaded from a white nylon bandeau trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a white Bible adorned with yellow roses. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Ronald Hoppes, Sedalia, was matron of honor. Her mint green street length dress was designed with a portrait type collar and full skirt. She wore a large white hat and carried a bouquet of white and yellow carnations.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Vern Dean Bohling, Sedalia, and Mrs. Frederick Nolting, Stover, cousin of the groom. They wore dresses identical to that of the matron of honor and their bouquets were of white and yellow carnations.

April Foolery On Political Party Line

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—One of Missouri's better known Democrats got a call Thursday from a worker in Republican National Committee headquarters in Washington.

Floyd Jones, chairman of the board of Ozark Airlines, said the worker told him Jones had been recommended as a prospective large contributor to Republican coffers.

It wasn't April Fool's Day but Jones engaged the Republican worker in a long-winded conversation. To prolong the fun, Jones got his friend and Democratic colleague, J. Howard Hannah, to carry on the telephone conversation several minutes longer.

Finally the leg-pulling became evident, Jones quoted the GOP man as winding up the conversation with:

"I've enjoyed this little visit, but I'm afraid it hasn't been very profitable for the Grand Old Party."

The flower girl, Debby Merriott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elvon Merriott, Stover, niece of the groom, wore a white dotted nylon dress designed identical to the matron of honor and an elbow length veil identical to the bride's. She carried a small bouquet of yellow carnations.

Rickey Mueller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mueller, Stover, nephew of the groom, carried the rings on a white satin pillow edged in lace.

The bride's mother chose a straw colored suit with black patent accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

The groom's mother wore a blue gray dress with black accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church basement. An arrangement of wedding bells from which radiated mint green and white streamers decorated the room. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth over mint green centered with a four leaf clover shaped four tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Sitting at the bride's table were Mrs. Harold Brockman, Cole Camp, Mrs. Lawrence Mueller, sister of the groom, Mrs. Elvon Merriott, sister-in-law of the groom, both of Stover, and Miss Vera Kaiser, aunt of the bride, Kansas City. Mrs. Wilbert Keuper, Ionia, aunt of the bride, had charge of the guest book. In charge of the gifts were Miss Lucille Eckhoff, Miss Velda Eckhoff, Miss LaVeda Kaiser, Miss Carol Mueller and Mrs. Melvin Schnakenberg.

For traveling, the bride chose a teal blue suit with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The bride is a graduate of the Cole Camp High School with the class of 1957. She was formerly employed with the Sedalia Democrat, circulation department, and is now employed with the Kraft Foods Company, Versailles.

The groom is a graduate of the Stover High School with the class of 1954 and is now employed with the Stover Telephone Company.

The couple will make their home in Stover.

Gas House Is Silent; Beats Move

VENICE, Calif. (AP)—The Gas House is silent today—gone the clinking coffee cups and banging bongo drums.

The controversial beachfront hangout for beatniks has reached the end, man, the living end. In short, it's out of business.

The sad news was relayed Thursday by co-owner Eric Nord, who blamed the closing on pressure from outraged citizens and window-smashing vandals.

He and co-owner Lawrence Lipton are looking for another Southern California site where the beard-and-sandal set can get away from it all.

The closing ended a brief but lively chapter in the history of this oilwell studded beach district on the western fringe of Los Angeles.

After the beats moved in en masse last summer, the squares organized. They declared the Gas House was a gathering place for oddballs and all sorts of improper things were going on inside. Besides, they said, the Gas House was lowering property values.

The beats counterattacked with gestures of civic amiability designed to win over squares: They painted abstracts on sidewalks and offered to decorate garbage cans in similar aesthetic fashion.

As for lowering property values, they claimed Venice long had been a civic eyesore with scum-infested canals and decaying buildings. The beats said they were giving the town a little class.

Nord summed up the beats' case at a police commission hearing, contending the world isn't ready for the peaceful message of bongo drums.

But whether the world is ready, one thing's apparent—Venice isn't.

Committee Cuts Millions From Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee has cut 136½ million dollars from President Eisenhower's foreign aid program.

Although the reductions in the first round of cuts were comparatively small for the $4,175,000,000 program, the big test lies ahead when the Appropriations Committee passes on the actual money bill.

Carry-over congressional authorizations from last year cover two billion dollars in military aid and about 700 million dollars in long term, low interest loans through the Development Loan Fund. So only about one-third the total — $1,400,000,000 — was under consideration by the Foreign Affairs Committee.

The biggest single cut was 75 million dollars slashed from the 175 million dollars Eisenhower asked for a contingency fund at his disposal. A total of 100 million was voted last year for this reserve.

The committee also voted to abolish aid to Cuba unless Eisenhower specifically directs that it be continued. Cuba gets no arms aid now, and the action would apply only to proposed technical assistance totaling about $330,000.

Congressional sentiment for cutting off aid to Cuba has built up as Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro continued his denunciations of the United States.

Chairman Otto E. Passman (D-La.) of the House Appropriations subcommittee has sent letters to all House members urging them to join in an effort to cut foreign spending. He has said the President's requests should be cut by more than a billion dollars.

Not Enough Evidence For Bribery Charges Against Elwood Long

FAYETTE, Mo. (AP)—Prosecutor Clyde E. Rogers says he doesn't have enough evidence to file a bribery charge against Elwood Long of Fayette, former state purchasing agent.

Long, accused in newspaper stories of accepting gifts from bidders, resigned Nov. 25.

Rogers said the only allegation that might come under his jurisdiction was a purported gift of some towels to Long.

"In a criminal case," the Howard County prosecutor said Thursday, "I would have to be able to prove specific intent to accept a bribe. From the smallness of the gift, I can't enter it to be a bribe and there is no way to prove criminal intent."

Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton reported Wednesday his investigation showed insufficient grounds for a civil suit against Long. He said any criminal charge would be up to the county prosecutor.

Rogers said: "If the attorney general finds no support for a civil action, there certainly isn't enough for a criminal complaint."

Formerly for Casual Wear

New Footwear Styles Accepted By Well-Groomed Businessmen

The resistance of men to changes in footwear styles is giving way dramatically and rapidly. Slimmer, more elegant slip-ons and other casual shoes are now a part of the summer wardrobe that includes flannels, the Madras and the tweed jackets, the wash-and-wear suits, the hand-stitched shirts.

Men will have good reason to be proud of their new shoes this spring and summer. In style, they are slim and elegant; in weight, light and flexible, either lightly lined or with no lining at all, and only a few with saddles.

Long tongues are popular. The shoe people have a new favorite in "high risers," which are an ankle boot and are beginning to appear this summer. Several of the new styles could be classified as modified or medium height chukka boots.

Modified Continental
The new patterns in footwear have a well-defined relationship to the Italian designs introduced several years ago, but adapted to American tastes in several interesting ways.

One is a variation of the square toe, modified for comfort and the free-and-easy peripatetics of life in this country. The general rule seems to be that toes are slimmer and more tapered. The younger models retain some of the more pointed characteristics of the Italian originals.

The far-reaching importance of BROWN WITH BLACK, the pace-setting fall and winter color innovation, will retain its popularity into spring and summer, according to the National Shoe Institute. The burnished brown tone of American Gentleman's long-tongued slip-on is heightened by black leather trim along the tongue and extended by the black mudguard.

the new styling is pointed up by a special feature on "Slim Slip-Ons" in the March issue of Esquire magazine.

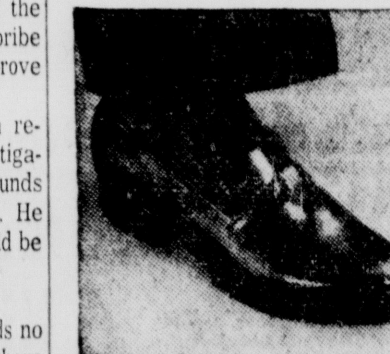

Ornaments Are Important
"Hardware," as the shoe trade calls the buckles, chain links, flours de lis and other decorations on the new shoes with straps, is more important than ever. Its use is a throwback to the men's fancy footwear of the 17th and 18th centuries and to the buckled shoes of American Colonial days.

Another variation, said to have originated with the famous Spanish bootmakers, is the use of elasticized goring on the side or under the tongue. It makes for a trimmer, tighter fit, accentuating the slim lines of the spring and summer designs.

Many American tourists have returned from Spain and Italy with a special addition to the use of elastic. The new styles mark the first extensive use of slimmer flexibility, the National Shoe Institute reports.

ELASTICIZED GORING is used by leading men's shoe makers to achieve elegant new slip-on styling without any sacrifice of foot-hugging comfort, the National Shoe Institute reports. The simplicity of Bostonian's high rising slip-on (top) is interrupted only by the wide goring at the sides. A dull black finish accentuates the plain toe of this model which is almost a chukka boot adaptation in the slip-on style. A different concept of goring lends interest to Nettleton's new dress slip-on (bottom). The entire tongue is composed of elasticized strips of leather which seem to stem from the decorative fixed strap.

Dark Brown and Blacks

The winter tones of burnished browns and true browns, together with brown-and-black, are carried over as the preferred colors for everything except the most formal dress. The runner-up is black, with the softer finishes providing the news. The tanner's art has provided many new tones and finishes, with the finer grains at the head of the list.

So dark and dressy are the new styles in casual footwear that the National Shoe Institute believes they are as suitable for business wear as for leisure and sport.

Missouri Easter Seal Society Seeks $410,900

Since 1935, when the first Easter Seal campaign in Missouri raised $292, for the care and treatment of Missouri's physically handicapped, the Missouri Society for Crippled Children and Adults has added 116 county affiliates and 1,000 volunteers to its organization.

James K. Cook, Springfield, state Easter Seal chairman, said that the Missouri Easter Seal Society is seeking $410,900 during the 1960 Easter Seal campaign so that it can continue its help to the physically handicapped. With a rapidly expanding population, more funds are needed to fight crippling.

Contributors to the 1960 campaign are urged to promote the appeal by using Easter Seals on Eastertime mail and by displaying the window sticker on windows or doors when contributions have been made.

According to Cook, 90 per cent of the funds contributed to the Easter Seal appeal finances services within the state. The remainder helps support a national program of education and research.

The 1960 Easter Seal appeal ends Easter Sunday, April 17, but the fight against crippling continues.

New Salem GA's Taught Study Book

The Girls' Auxiliary home missions study book, "Deepstep RFD" by Mrs. Marion Vinzant, was taught to eight members of the New Salem Baptist GA's at the church Saturday. The meeting had been postponed several times because of the inclement weather.

Miss Raylene Dollard, a sophomore at Central Missouri State College, taught the book which is part of the graded study course for the year on "Our Mission in Town and Country." Miss Dollard presented the study of rural life in Georgia in an entertaining manner which held the interest of the girls.

During intermission periods there were folk songs, a calendar of prayer observance and choral reading of scriptures led by the counselor, Mrs. York Finley. Refreshments were served in the middle of the session.

One South American species of catfish is said to be able to travel on land from one pool to another, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Designs Include Novelties

Ventilated shoes in a wide variety of patterns will win new popularity as the weather gets warmer. They include the elegant new slim slip-ons in a group of interesting weaves of nylon, basket-weave leather and the new willow weave.

Moccasins of soft leather and deerskin have a diamond perforation for maximum "breathability" during the hot summer months in the city. An adaptation of an Italian import is seen in a slipper of a straw-like basket weave, with a reinforced toe for smart appearance.

The brushed leathers, a sensation last year, are expected to gain in consumer acceptance this spring and summer. In color, they have all of the shades of the rainbow, matching the new colors in slacks. Loden, gray and red are favored among the new colors.

They come in many forms of crepe and composition soles, including the much-liked "Pompeii" with a self-sole of suede, now available in versions for both men and women. Some are in modifications of the chukka boot, some are "low-boys," others are three-eyelid bluchers with black trim.

Harmonize With Fashions

The overall effect of men's shoe styles for spring and summer, the National Shoe Institute believes, will be to harmonize with and even to extend the emphasis on elegant leisure in dress.

The trend for the months ahead will be to dress up for recreation, whether it is a barbecue dinner, a boating trip or a Saturday morning round of golf. Suits are lighter, the jackets are brighter, the shirts more colorful and the shoes slimmer, lighter, more elegant and more flexible.

No Kidnap

Clues Found, Marshal Says

No trace has been found, according to report from the Knob Noster marshal's office, of the three men who reportedly kidnaped and robbed Earl W. Swergin last Friday night.

Swergin, who resides east of Knob-Noster, told Marshal Charles Norman of Knob Noster that the kidnapers flagged his eastbound pickup truck on Highway 50 about one mile east of Knob Noster, and at gunpoint forced their way into the truck.

Two men entered the truck, he said, and told him to continue in the same direction, while a man in another car followed. He did not see the third man. He was forced to continue east to LaMonte, he said, then south on Highway 127 for three or four miles.

When the Swergin truck stopped, the driver said, the two men robbed him of his wallet, containing about $12 in cash, his car keys, watch and some change, then departed in the general direction of Green Ridge in the following car.

The car was described as a 1949 or 1950 Chevrolet or Oldsmobile. The two men riding in the truck were described as being 21-30 years old, one weighing about 170 pounds and the other weighing about 145 pounds.

Norman, who is also a deputy sheriff in Johnson County, contacted the sheriff's office in Warrensburg, and the Sedalia police.

The kidnaping and robbery began in Johnson County and ended up in Pettis County.

Officials are continuing the investigation.

treated and looked after, the bartender said. Eric nodded his head, yes.

Replying to more questions by customers in the bar, Eric said he had been left on the sidewalk by two men who had taken him there in a car.

While the spontaneous celebration was going on in the bar, a customer remembered to call police.

Within minutes several police cars reached the scene and the father was notified.

A crowd had gathered outside the Peugeot home by the time the father returned with his son in his arms. The spectators cheered and applauded as the reunited father and son disappeared inside the apartment building.

Up until the time it became known that a new letter had been received by the family Thursday, the father had said there had been no news as the time limit for contact with the kidnapers expired.

The letter saying the boy was well was written on the same type of paper and apparently on the same typewriter as the original ransom note tossed on a children's playground when the boy was seized Tuesday.

The family had said it stood ready under any conditions to deliver the demanded money.

The new letter apparently was received by the family Thursday in a regular mail delivery.

It appeared that Peugeot's statement to newsmen that there was no news was made in the effort to comply with instructions of the kidnapers to keep silent.

The family had asked police to keep hands off lest the kidnapers be frightened away.

Several times Thursday members of the family had left the Peugeot apartment. Their moves brought speculation that secret contacts were being made with the kidnapers.

In a TV appeal Wednesday night, Peugeot had promised not to press charges if his son was returned unharmed. The broadcast appeal was repeated several times Thursday.

charge of inciting Africans to disobey the pass law.

The government's information office in Cape Town announced that 86 Africans—83 civilians and 3 Negro policemen—were killed in the racial strife between March 21 and April 9. That covers the period between the controversial Sharpeville shooting and the unsuccessful attempt of a white farmer last Saturday to kill Verwoerd. The office said 391 Africans and 62 white persons were wounded.

Verwoerd, with two 22-caliber bullets still in his head, was reported progressing well at a Pretoria hospital.

Several cars stalled at a south side intersection when storm sewers were unable to carry off the water which was axle deep before receding.
